SPREAD THE GOOD NEWS.

Through the different papers this advertisement will reach 80,000 families at about the same time. If every reader sees it and every reader reads it, it will be read, talked about and thought about almost simultaneously by four millions of people. But there's the rub. Some of the very people who would be most interested may happen to skip it. Your neighbor, Mrs. Blank, may be ready to buy Hosiery and Blouses and White Linens. They will need her a great deal less money if bought now and here. And that's the point. Tell her about it. Hosiery and Blouses and White Linens would come last week and would never have heard of the sale but for the kindly way in which readers told their friends.

To Distant Friends and Patrons.

Here is how it is done in many places twenty, fifty, one hundred miles away: Six or eight families compare notes form our advertisements and see what can be bought to advantage by each. Then one person is commissioned to visit the city and make the selections. Of course as far as possible we will fill mail orders for these goods. When equally convenient, however, personal choice is better.
